Petrolia residents drank in the rare sight of the filming of a major motion picture. About 150 crew and cast from Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark came to town using the former Fairbank House as a backdrop for their filming. Dozens of large rental trucks lined the main street as the crews set up everything from large lights on cranes, center, to a rain boom, bottom left, and a smoke machine, center right. Dozens of residents lined the sidewalk across the road each night to watch, keeping silent as the crews worked. There is no word on the release date of the film.
